YEAR 11 AND 13 STUDENT LEAVERS

As your son/daughter approaches the end of their time in school we would like to remind you to plan your top-ups and spending so the balance on their catering account is at a minimum by the time they leave school. This will help reduce administration in the school and at Innovate Business Support Centre.

Innovate will not refund account balances less than £5. Instead the total value of all account balances less than £5 (school leavers only) will be donated to the school.

If your account balance is over £5 you may either request a refund, have the money transferred to a younger sibling, or donate the balance to the school.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

SIXTH FORM MUFTI DAY

SPRING CONCERT REVIEW

Wednesday saw our annual Spring Concert here at Furze Platt, with a very impressive array of musical talent across all year groups. We certainly have a number of future stars in the making and everyone involved – from soloists, to choirs, to musicians – should feel extremely proud of themselves.

Musical vocal offerings included our Main Choir performing 'True Colours' and 'Hold Back the River' which were perfect rousing choices for the beginning of what promised to be a superb evening of entertainment. Two of our Year 7 students then treated us to a song for their debut performance, Izzy Phipps on vocals with George Stratford accompanying her on the guitar.

Our Boys' Choir sang favourites from Keane and Take That and the Lads' Choir, managed by Tobias Lattimer (Year 12) performed very humorous versions of 'Barbara Anne' and 'Always Look on the Bright Side of Life'.

Cara McEvoy (Year 13) sang 'No one else' from 'Natasha, Pierre & The Great Comet of 1812', based on War and Peace by Leo Tolstoy. This will sadly be Cara's last concert at Furze Platt as she goes on to study musical theatre at university.

Our Chamber Choir finished the first half with stunning versions of Bruckner's 'Locus Iste' and the classic 'Flying Free'.

In the second half of the concert, the first piece was 'Bohemian Rhapsody' – a particularly bold choice which worked very well indeed with so many harmonising voices. This was followed by Charlie Nickels (Year 10) playing 'We are the Champions' on the piano to add to the Queen repertoire.

Our Girls' Choir, under the leadership of Gemma Higley (Year 12) and Aqsa Fatima (Year 11) treated us to Coldplay's 'The Scientist' and the popular 'You are the Reason'.

This was followed by Eliza Stevenson (Year 10) with an unforgettable rendition of 'Breathe' from the hit musical 'Hamilton' and Edward Lattimer (Year 11) with an accomplished violin solo. Glee Choir (led by Cara McEvoy and Gemma Higley) - a specially auditioned choir which is completely run by students - gave us the theme tune from the hit US Comedy 'Friends' and then onto our operatic Amy Tarrant (Year 13), a member of the National Youth Choir of Great Britain, who performed Mozart's 'The Magic Flute'. Our Chamber Choir then ended the night with two upbeat toe tappers, an African Tribal song with Azika Thali made up from numerous interweaving rhythms creating an impressive sound and 'Rhythm of Life', a fantastic feel good number to send everyone on their way with a smile.

There were also a number of musical pieces - well done to all our musicians, both featured and as accompaniment, including Ben Alberts (piano), Tommy Hand (drums), Harry Mowe (electric guitar) (Tommy and Harry wrote their piece themselves), Grade 6 pianist Sharanya Singh, Anna Gambrill (trumpet), Nicola Oakley (drums), Jemima Hutchinson-May (piano), our impressive Jazz Band led by Charlotte Gould (Year 13) and of course our wonderful Ukulele Club, run by Year 11 student Rebecca Fisk.

Thank you also to all those involved who did not appear on stage but worked tirelessly behind the scenes to make the evening a success: our student led tech team; our student ensemble leaders, who have encouraged and supported their groups as well as organising the musical arrangements; all our staff who helped on the evening and during rehearsals – especially Mrs Bradley - and our PTFA who supplied the refreshments for the event.

Our very special thanks goes to Mr Forster, who only joined us a few months ago but through his enthusiasm, organisation and infectious love of music, produced an evening of music that will be long remembered for its wonderful harmonies and professional arrangements.

YEAR 7 EASTER FUN IN MATHS

Over the Easter holidays, Year 7 Windsor students were asked to create Maths games that incorporated maths topics they have covered in lessons over the year. The students produced some fantastic designs including Maths

John Hern, Oliver Mitchell, Oliver Darlington

Eleanor Foster, Ruby King

Connie Howe, Chanelle De'ath

Twister, Mathmanji and Maths Chess. All the students had a great time testing each other's games and working out some challenging Maths problems in order to win. I was very impressed with the creativity and inventiveness behind the games and it was wonderful so see so many having great fun practicing their Maths skills.

TRIP TO ICELAND 2019

By Tilly Pink-Costello (Year 10)

DAY ONE

We arrived at school on the Wednesday morning at 9:00am, everybody loaded their suitcases on and said their farewells as they boarded the coach. Everyone was excited for the next few days, finally we got through the bagging area and passed security at the airport. Once we were all given our passports, boarding passes and tickets we got onto the plane to settle for the 3 and a bit hours' journey ahead. Following on from the plane and security we were greeted by our tour guide and our bus driver that we were assigned with for our trip. The students then got a commentary trip on

DAY TWO

Everyone was eager for a big continental breakfast which consisted of: a selection of fruits, bread, cereals and juices, it was funny when you see your head of house (Mr Molin) looking rough in the mornings but a cup of coffee quickly sorted him out. Once we were well fed we reloaded the coach before our next adventure takes place, this adventure was the lava centre! The lava centre was a big building that shows exhibitions on earth quakes, different types of volcanoes and the real story behind them but why these exhibitions were displayed was very fascinating and intriguing for the students as there were 3D displays, virtual reality simulators of volcanoes and huge display models of the volcanoes around Iceland. Later on we enjoyed our packed lunches the hotel provided by a beautiful waterfall the countryside of Iceland as we travelled around until we reached our first destination which was the tectonic plates between the North American plate and the Next we arrived at the lava tunnel where we got equipped with shoe grips and helmets to start our exploring in the tunnels, we walked for about 1km down until we reached a big hall like structure inside with absolutely no natural light except our flashlights... then we turned them off, it was very dark indeed! Later once we reached our hotel, we went for pizza then got our rooms assigned for the night. The rooms were rather 'cosy' but they would do for the temporary stay, we all got an early night for our 7 o' clock wake up call for our busy day ahead.

that you could walk behind called Seljalandfoss and Skogafoss before we set off for one of the most exciting activities planned for the trip - GLACIER WALKING. Once we arrived at the glacier walking area we got kitted up with our crampons and an ice-pick. We did a 15-minute walk from the coach to the glacier where we started our hike up hill, which was a challenge for some people. Once we arrived at our summit we quickly got back to the coach apart from the actionable stops to put people's crampons back on and pick up the people that fell into holes in the ice (cough cough Miss Inwood) so we could start our journey to Reykjavik so we could get to our hotel, eat, go to bed and do it all again in the morning.

squeal. We relaxed in there for a few hours until we were all prunes to then go back to our hotel to pack for the departure the next day. In the afternoon we were given the opportunity to explore the town of Reykjavik and spend our kronas by the thousand, once the time was up we headed back to the hotel on foot. The trip back was extremely windy, we finally made it back after our 20-minute trek and surprisingly we didn't get blown away, just quite a lot of dust in everyone's eyes.

DAY THREE

Today was going to be a less intense day as we set off after our breakfast to go through the 5770m tunnel under Hvalfjordsdurbay. Some people tried to hold their breath until they realised we were in there for a good 15-20 minutes.

Once we found light on the other side the bus pulled up to a waterfall/reservoir where we had lunch and took amazing photos. The most exciting part of the trip was the natural geothermal baths (basically outdoor hot tubs but at different temperatures) there was an array of temperatures from 6-8 degrees to the 42 degrees which was very entertaining when people got in to the coldest tub and watch them

DAY FOUR

We got awoken at 6:00am to make it back to the airport on time and had a few detours on the way, due to winds we discovered that there hadn't been any planes flying overnight or the previous day. Once we reached the airport prepared for our long camp out we found out that our plane had only been delayed by 2 hours, the lunch got handed out along with the passports which contained some hilarious photos in as we headed through security. Everyone set up camp in the middle of the airport for the few hours we were planning on being there. Once our terminal was announced we could message our parents about the delay, surprisingly quite a few students didn't realise there was a delay after we were waiting for hours. We boarded the plane and started preparing for the very bumpy journey ahead. The 3 and a bit hours flew by as we shortly arrived to England, the rough looking faces barely got through the waiting of the bags without sitting down or yawning. The morale quickly picked up as we got closer and closer to the school seeing our family waiting patiently to greet their children. We departed the coach and said our thanks to the teachers (you could tell they needed a drink after that trip) and we were on our way.

SKI BLOG 2019

SUNDAY

After a really smooth journey (we had excellent coach drivers who serenaded us with Italian music as we crossed the border. We have checked into the hotel, sorted all our ski hire and been fed well. Everyone is unpacking and settling into their rooms.

We are up bright and early in the morning to get everyone into their ski groups and head up the mountain for our first day's skiing. The forecast for tomorrow is sunny, with more snow expected on Tuesday.

Our Interski rep this year is Barnaby Morton-Woodruff, who was our Head Boy in 2015 - we know we are going to be well looked after!

We have had a wonderful first day skiing in the resort, the weather and snow has been absolutely incredible. Those who are returning have remembered how much they love skiing and those who are our beginners are definitely getting the bug.

MONDAY

It felt like an early start (despite being a respectable 7am), but the orange juice and croissants certainly went down well. It was fantastic news for our beginner groups, who normally stay at the bottom of the hill, but came to the top of the mountain too. They have been designated their own area and we must say they have progressed quickly, with everyone doing plough turns. Two students are now advancing up a group due to impressing the instructors.

Speaking to the students, everyone likes their ski instructors with comments ranging from 'funny' through to 'cool'. The advanced group were worked hard, skiing a fantastic 56 kilometres (going to France and back). Whilst our other groups were getting used to the slopes around La Thuile.

It didn't just stop at skiing though, with an apres ski of Bum Boarding afterwards. That was hilarious and, as we are sure you can imagine, our competitive streaks came out with lots of different races. A highlight was definitely the caterpillar bum boarding created by some (you can see the pictures in the gallery) and ending in a good natured snowball fight where Mr Sheppard was definitely the target for our Year 10 boys.

This evening we have enjoyed a delicious meal and celebrated the day (thank you for your messages - I'm sure they liked them really!). Our 'Pay It Forward' award went to Connor Soden for looking after his group. While our donut of the day went to Hollie O'Neill for a spectacular fall...in the restaurant (she wasn't hurt, but a table didn't come off so well!).

It's late, so everyone is tucked up in bed so they are ready for another fun filled day tomorrow.

TUESDAY

FPSS students sped, paralleled and snow-plowed their way into day two with style and grace.

Tired legs were quickly forgotten as fresh snow found its way to La Thuile and revitalised the troops.

Happy faces were spotted all over the mountain as improvements were made at all levels in all groups. As the day wore on and progress continued the various groups began to work their way around and/or up/down the mountain.

With a number of miles clocked up the students made their way with eager faces to the evening Apres Ski activity in the form of an 'all you can eat' pizza night. A few nervous looks from chef and waiters as our students tore into their feast with gusto to carb load for the coming days. 30 pizzas later the team waddled back to the hotel to complete Miss Tomlin's Taskmaster activity.

This evening's task set by Miss Tomlin was to find the most surprising object which could be hidden under a mug. Items included a large pair of chequered pants, a fruit dressed up as Mr Djaelani, a pig in a sty, cat food, a napkin saying "surprise", a half eaten snicker bar, tic tacs, and other equally imaginative surprises. Mr Sheppard awarded group 3 for tonight's task (Andrea, Amy, Isobelle, Harrison, Jay, Sean, Connor). Tomorrow night's Task 2 promises to be equally as entertaining and surprising.

As we progressed into the evening, the Taskmaster challenge was revealed: 10 challengers were each challenged to blow up the biggest balloon blind-folded. Congratulations to Group 4 and Group 2 represented by Maddie Bird and Hollie O'Neill whose balloons can only be described as impressively enormous.

The staff kicked off the evening's apres ski karaoke with The Spice Girls. Students all sung with gusto and surprisingly no modern chart music was performed, all golden oldies including Country Road, Bohemian Rhapsody, Living On A Prayer, Sweet Caroline and Sweet Home Alabama. A particular mention goes to Josh Woodhatch who received a standing ovation for making the YMCA his own. Winners to be confirmed tomorrow night after some conferring between the judges.

After a fun packed day, everyone is looking forward to a good night sleep and Day 4 on the slopes.

WEDNESDAY

The group awoke to beautiful blue skies and bright sunshine over the snow drenched mountains this morning. After a continental breakfast and the application of lashings of suncream, they were all ready to hit the slopes.

More progress made by all with beginners experiencing a button lift for the first time and one group skiing to France. The teachers spent the morning filming our GCSE PE students in order to demonstrate their skiing ability for their exam. After being nominated for doughnut of the day yesterday for spending more time upside or in the splits than on his feet, Ben Roberts sported the bat cape with finesse, swooping down the slopes in true superhero style.

After a challenging afternoon skiing in slushy snow, caused by the sunshine, what could be more fitting than an Italian Gelato at the bottom of the Gondola.

THURSDAY

At the risk of sounding repetitive, we have had another fantastic day in the sunshine. Perfect conditions in the morning turned into slightly more taxing conditions in the afternoon, providing varied challenges for all of us, from beginner to advanced. Our beginners are now confidently skiing blue runs, and have even tackled a little bit of red! Our advanced skiers are looking fantastic. Many groups have been venturing over to France and enjoying the varied pistes of La Rosière. It continues to be great to see the progress that everyone is making.

After coming down from the piste this afternoon, everyone set about finding gifts for their instructors. It was great to see how much thought was being put into each gift, with many having gone to great efforts to find out what their instructor liked.

This evening we had crepes as our après-ski activity, followed by another round of Taskmaster - getting a chocolate button from your forehead into your mouth without touching it. This was won, impressively quickly, by Connor Charles of Group 3.

After careful deliberation, judges have decided that last night's karaoke was won by Group 7 (particularly due to Josh Woodhatch's performance) with a creditable second place going to Group 3 as a result of Matt Dilley's solo.

Tomorrow's forecast is for more of the same - lovely sunny conditions and some great skiing.

FRIDAY

It has been a real pleasure to witness the progress made by all of our students this week. Despite the overcast start to the day (with whiteout conditions at higher altitudes), all groups were covering large distances on increasingly challenging slopes.

This afternoon saw our Ski School Presentation. It is fair to say that, while our instructors sing the praises of our students every year, we have never heard them eulogize as much as this year. From beginners to the more advanced, instructors noted that Furze Platt students were amongst the best they have worked with all year (and this is the last week of the season!).

We are now thinking about our final day of skiing, how we are going to re-pack our suitcases without mum or dad's help and the long journey home.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH AWARDS

Well done to 8P4 who produced this amazing array of pastry filled products for their final assessment on Street Food.

TUNNOCK TEACAKE CHALLENGE

Students in 8P2 were set the 'Tunnock Teacake Challenge' which challenged them to create the best designs using a Tunnock teacake, a digestive biscuit, 10 chocolate drops, 1 piece white and 1 piece milk chocolate, 1/2 strawberry. 2 cherries and a tablespoon of coulis. They then had just 30 minutes to style the food. Top food stylist went to the flower - congratulations on all the artistic designs!

MORNING FITNESS WITH MR DJAELANI

Every Wednesday, Mr Djaelani takes a number of students through workout and fitness sessions before school. He has won five World Kickboxing Championships U80kg and is now a CrossFit enthusiast so our students are getting a top workout!

YEAR 10 CHILD DEVELOPMENT

Our Year 10 Child Development students took on an Easter challenge to make a non-commercial toy suitable for child's play. Students had to create their designs and consider the developmental aspect of their toys as well as safety issues. Here are some of the examples of the toys delivered, some of which were made specifically for the students' younger siblings. We hope they will like them as much as we do!

PARENTS' PACK - APPRENTICESHIP INFORMATION

REMINDER OF HEADTEACHER'S MESSAGE

I have set students a couple of challenges. Firstly, to be more punctual. Using the term 'lateness is tardiness' I have pointed out the learning time some students are wasting. Secondly, to ensure that students sort themselves out at break times so they are not asking to leave lessons for bathroom breaks and other reasons. Our staff will be particularly focused on the improvement of these areas this term.

PTFA QUIZ / 200 CLUB WINNERS

Last Friday was the PTFA Quiz Night, a very well attended and fun evening. With over 100 attendees, the questions were organised by three of our Year 7 dads Gareth Ebenezer, Hugh Steed and John Wilson and was based on a 'Skool Days' theme. Extra points were awarded for fancy dress team members and rounds included clay modelling and live Pointless (just like the BBC television programme).

Raising over £700 for our PTFA – which in turn is spent on improving our school for your children – the food was arranged by our current PTFA Chair, Jeff Lloyd.

Thank you to everyone involved and we very much look forward to the next Quiz Night!

Our popular prize winning '200 Club' numbers were also drawn and the winners were 16, 18, 38 (winners have been informed).
