Link to official specification

Department Information:
Students will explore three different projects exploring a range of subject matters and the conceptual depth of their work. Students will look at both historical and contemporary artist and building up relevance to the world of today and their own creative direction. Students will also complete the personal study project as part of these two years where they will be expected to explore a theme/questions linking to Art, Craft & Design.

ACHIEVE in the curriculum:
Students will continuously refine their technical drawing skill through a range of base line and drawing workshops systematically planted throughout the two years.

Their medium exploration will encourage a collaborative environment due to the set-up of the classroom and resources. They will endure learning and responding to a new skill with a fresh medium.

Students will also take part in groups critiques and presentations, peer assessment and marking through the Edexcel mark scheme.

Curriculum Aims & Intent:
Provide an overview of the course content and its core aims and intent, what learners will know and understand at the end of the course etc.

Project 1: Human Boundaries
Students will explore a range of subject matters through both previously explored and new media. They will be taught how to write an in-depth artist analysis and how to respond to it, this will eventually lead on to the development towards a final outcome. The project is split into three mini projects exploring different subject matter, still-life, animals and portraiture.

Project 2: Personal Study Component
During this project students are expected to explore a question linking to Art & Design, they are expected to complete a 1000–3000-word essay along with practical work to help develop their understanding.

Project 3: Externally Set Assignment
Students are given a booklet where all pages will have checklists and layout, and tutorials to help build up their own personal theme. Students are given

Resources:
Provide links to all relevant websites, details of textbooks and all core reading materials (including ISBNs where possible)

Assessment Objectives

challenge tasks to help adapt to their own skill set. There is a clear timeline given in this booklet where students are both aware of and expected to meet the deadline leading up to their 15 hour exam.

Projects have been structured to work towards full independence during the exam unit with a clear understanding of grading and assessment.

Develop ideas through investigations, demonstrating critical understanding of sources.

AO2

Refine work by exploring ideas, selecting and experimenting with appropriate media, materials, techniques and processes

AO3

Record ideas, observations and insights relevant to intentions as work progresses

AO4

Present a personal and meaningful response that realises intentions and demonstrates understanding of visual language

How we keep parents informed:

Year 12 - Progress reports are published 4 times per year, in October, January, March and July, with a face-to-face parents' evening in November.

How parents can help their child:

Get them drawing! We encourage parents to sit down with their children for an hour or two every weekend and draw! as well as it being a great activity that the whole family can join in, it helps students practice, refine and consolidate their skills being taught in school. Choose different subject matters so there is always challenge; landscape, portrait, still-life or even abstract/imaginative observations.

Challenge: Ask your child about the conceptual depth of their work. What did they draw? Why did they draw it? What does it mean? Does the subject matter they chose hold a deeper meaning?

Parents are also encouraged to allow students to explore relevant gallery visits to help expose them to the culture of the art world and relevant artists. Let us know if you go, we can build this into their books.

The booklets we will give out for Strange & Fantasy and Me, Myself & I are available online, ask us if you would like a copy. It's great way of keeping track of your child's work without too much hassle.
